

VBS Teen Crew

Goal and Objectives

Dr. Becky Powell,
Religious Education Program Director,
USAG Stuttgart; IMCOM Europe

Learning Goal

- ▶ The VBS Teen Crew Learning Goal will be to:
 - Know that Life is Wild and God is Good through learning how to lead in Army Chapel programs.

Learning Objectives

- ▶ The Learning Objectives to accomplish the goal are:
 - Learning Chapel Sanctuary Audio/Visual system. (Understanding)
 - Showing the system use (teen who knows the system already)
 - Interpreting how to use each piece of the equipment (Teens who are new to the system)
 - Illustrating the system by building an Audio/visual use guide which includes photos of the system and photo/word instructions.
 - The success of this objective will be measured by an adult testing the instructions.
 - Constructing Chapel welcome communications. (Creating)
 - Organizing welcome/registration table.
 - Discussing USAG Stuttgart chapel programs with participants.
 - Compiling Attendance rosters into reports to include Storyboard, Newspaper article, and statistical reports.
 - Choosing to use of Key VBS themes in conversations with adult and child participants.
 - The success of this objective will be measured by participant evaluations and acceptance of compiled reports/articles for use by USAG Stuttgart Chaplain's Office.
 - Utilize principles of Chapel Logistics (Applying)
 - Selecting correct materials for setting up and cleaning up VBS program elements.
 - Solving new challenges that Adult Facilitators introduce to the teens.
