

Enclosure 1 – Methods of Obtaining Required Annual CEUs

1. The following Installation Management Command Chaplain policy outlines the procedures by which Army Directors of Religious Education may meet the re-certification requirements:

a. Attendance at Chief of Chaplains Annual Religious Education Training is required training for all invited Directors of Religious Education (AR 165-1, 5-2g). Garrison Chaplains will ensure all DREs are able to attend.

b. Participation in a pre-approved professional religious educator's training conference to include, but not limited to, the Religious Education Association (REA), Association of Presbyterian Church Educators (APCE), Christian Educator's Fellowship (CEF), The Network for Christian Formation (FORMA) International Christian Education Association (ICEA), Jewish Educators Assembly (JEA), Los Angeles Religious Education Congress (LAREC), Lutheran Association of Christian Educators (LACE), and Life Long Faith Associates.

c. Completion of any approved Army Civilian Education System (CES) course (Foundations, Basic, Intermediate and Advanced), or any Training, Capability, and Doctrine Warfighting Developers Career Program 32 (CP-32) training.

d. Participation in a pre-approved seminary/graduate theological institution continuing education course or training on a topic pertinent to religious education and/or faith formation.

e. Completion of an approved Army Religious Education professional development training support packet or directed reading assignment.

2. Up to 5 CEUs, beyond the 5 required annually, may be carried over and credited into the following year's rating cycle.

3. The requirement for the completion of five (5) CEUs per year establishes a Chaplaincy career-long commitment to life-long learning, and significantly enhances the overall professional standards of Army Religious Education Program.
